Profile

Ms Ridhima Narayan is Assistant Professor of English at Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel University of Agriculture and Technology, Meerut. She read English Literature at Gargi College, University of Delhi, and subsequently pursued postgraduate research, completing her M.Phil. with a dissertation entitled Unravelling the Matrix of Feminism through Social Media: A Study of Select Works of Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie from Campus, CCSU, Meerut. Her current doctoral research explores gendered trauma in contemporary women's writing, examining the intersections of silence and resistance within feminist narrative frameworks. Her broader academic interests lie in postcolonial literatures, trauma and memory studies, gender and media theory, and cultural studies.

With over three years of academic experience, Ms Narayan teaches undergraduate, postgraduate, and doctoral students across diverse courses. Her pedagogical approach foregrounds critical inquiry, interdisciplinarity, and dialogic engagement. She has qualified several national-level academic examinations, including the UGC-NET, GATE (Humanities and Social Sciences), and the State Eligibility Test (Himachal Pradesh), and is committed to academic excellence and inclusive education.
